DR. G. W. NASH DEAD IN VIRGINIA

Old Hurley Resident, Who Died on Friday in Virginia, Cleared Up Many Historical Tangles in New York City and This County—Was Very Active in Old Hurley in Church and Farm Bureau.

Dr. George W. Nash, a well known resident of Old Hurley, died on Friday in Charles City County, Virginia, where he went several months ago to regain his health. For the past two years Dr. Nash had been out of health and about a year ago was a patient for some time at the Kingston City Hospital, where he underwent an operation. During last fall he was again a patient at the hospital for some time, but on leaving the hospital went to Virginia with his wife to spend the winter.

Dr. Nash came to Kingston about 1906, purchasing the old Van Deusen property at Old Hurley, the stone house which had served as the capitol of New York state for some time after the burning of Kingston in 1777. Dr. Nash restored the house as near as possible to the old Colonial style and improved the entire property, which occupies a central location on Old Hurley street. He was deeply interested in the history of Ulster county and particularly of the town of Hurley. He straightened out many tangles regarding local history and there was hardly an object of historical interest for many miles around of which he failed to secure a photograph. He was an expert photographer and took pleasure in preserving in this form many buildings and other objects which have since disappeared.

In his younger days Dr. Nash traveled around the world as companion to a man of considerable wealth, and during their travels they visited almost every country. Later for a number of years he was engaged in work for the United States government, and for a long time was stationed at Munich, Germany, where part of his duties were in connection with the medical inspection of immigrants bound for the United States.

Subsequently Dr. Nash for a number of years was engaged in public health work in Greater New York and also was associated with Dr. Little, a well known specialist whose office for many years was in the old Fifth Avenue Hotel. During his residence in New York City Dr. Nash made many friends of political prominence.

While residing in New York, Dr. Nash became deeply interested in historical matters, and he prepared for the City History Club of that city numerous pamphlets describing famous historical places in and near the Greater City, most of which were afterwards published in a book published by the City History Club under the title, "Historical Guide to the City of New York." He also wrote extensively for various historical publications.

Since coming to Ulster county, he had interested himself in all public movements. During the World War he was one of the dependable men engaged in organizing the county, and especially his own community, for war work. He was always active in providing and planning for entertainments at the Hurley Reformed Church, and took an active part in the work of the church. He was active in the successful organization and establishment of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau. For a number of years Dr. Nash wrote entertainingly of Hurley happenings for The Freeman.

For several years Dr. Nash was one of the expert real estate appraisers employed by the city of New York in the early days of the Ashokan condemnation proceedings, and he enjoyed a large acquaintance in all parts of the county. Politically, Dr. Nash was a Democrat. He is survived by his wife. The interment will be in the Westover Churchyard in Charles City County, Virginia.

DR. KAPLAN PAID TRIBUTE TO JEWISH PIONEERS

And Was Elected Rabbi of Congregation by Acclamation.

Last night was seventy years since the first Jewish service was held in this city by the Jewish pioneers of this community, who came here from Germany and Alsace Lorraine over seventy years ago. Dr. Bernard M. Kaplan paid an eloquent tribute to the early Jewish pioneers who amidst their early struggles never neglected the faith of their fathers. Emanuel Congregation, which is one of the oldest congregations in the state, outside of New York city, and as its leaders some of the most distinguished rabbis and scholars of the late Rabbi Wolf was minister of the congregation over a quarter of a century. He was greatly loved and respected by the entire community. The members of the congregation feel that in Rabbi Kaplan they have a worthy successor. Dr. Kaplan, who came here three years ago, is not only devoted to the congregation but also to the welfare of the whole community and is held in high esteem by all. Dr. Kaplan was elected Rabbi of the congregation by acclamation.

Police Circles Quiet.

There were no arrests made during the night by the police department and no cases in police court today. The traffic standards have now been placed at busy street intersections by the department.

REMOVING SLIDE ON NORTH STREET

The work of removing the clay slide from North street is progressing. The steam shovel Friday afternoon had removed all of the slide from the trolley tracks with the exception of about fifty feet. It is expected that the entire slide will be removed from the street some time next week.

Trolley cars are only able to run as far as Abryn street. As the trolley is laying new rails on ties between the slide and the Strand switch it may be late next week before trolley service to Kingston Point is resumed.

North street between East Union street and Delaware avenue, is still cut off to traffic.

YEAR'S REPORT OF Y.M.C.A. AUXILIARY

The following is the annual report of the recording secretary to the Women's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association:

During the past year regular meetings were held every month except July, August and September, the vacation season. The largest attendance at any one meeting was 70 and the smallest 21. The president presided at each meeting and every regular meeting opened with a devotional period.

Death has separated for a time seven of the loved members, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. D. Murray, Miss Turner, Mrs. George Cook, Mrs. Clarence Hendricks, Mrs. Frank Kline and Mrs. Albert Carr. The present membership numbers approximately 470.

The programs have been excellent consisting of musical and elocutionary, local talent and three speakers: May 10—The Rev. James A. G. Moore, Congregational student, pastor of Cornell University, his subject "Home as the training factor in Christian building of the college student."

June 16—Mrs. Putnam Cady gave a beautiful word picture of her trip up the Nile, through southern France and Naples.

March 9—General Secretary Howe of the Albany Y. M. C. A., subject "Experience in Southern Africa as a Y. M. C. A. Secretary."

Nov. 10—This auxiliary invited the Poughkeepsie Y. M. C. A. Boys' Auxiliary to be its guests. Mrs. Simon, the president, and seven of her co-workers responded and Mrs. Simon, Mrs. Moss and Mrs. Frost told of their work which was most encouraging and helpful to this auxiliary. During the serving of tea which followed the friendship ladies were taken up to the Albany Avenue Baptist Church to a chicken pie supper. This ended a pleasant afternoon with our neighboring auxiliary.

In June a supper was served in the gymnasium which netted $192.56.

The auxiliary with the cooperation of the Hi-Y Auxiliary served meals to the boys visiting the Older Boys' Conference here on which they realized a profit of some $24.

December 7th and 8th a sale was held in the Y. M. C. A. building—fancy and useful articles, also food were for sale. Ice cream, cake and flowers were sold by the Hi-Y Auxiliary.

A musical program was a feature of the afternoon of the 7th. Mrs. Louis Coe and Miss Linkletter accompanied by Mrs. Ellingre were the artists. $221.83 was realized aside from the amount the Hi-Y girls cleared for their treasury—$11.10.

During the summer the final payment on the $300 gas range installed in the kitchen was made.

This year the cash contributions to the Y. M. C. A. budget was $200. Action was taken to decide a preference for Y. M. C. A. or community house. A unanimous vote for a Y. M. C. A. was the result.

A membership campaign has been in progress for the past two months. The goal is to make the membership 500.

Five hundred copies of the constitution and by-laws, also stationery and due bills have been printed for auxiliary use.

At the March meeting Secretary Sanford reported that the board of directors had decided to give the lunch room to the auxiliary to fit up as a ladies' parlor and committee room.

Respectfully submitted, FLORETTA C. SAFFORD, Recording Secretary.

POUGHKEEPSIE FIRE TRUCK DAMAGED GOING TO FIRE
Booth Hose's big motor fire truck met disaster on Main street, when it traveling at about 40 miles an hour in response to an alarm, it went down into one of the numerous holes in the pavement. Both front wheels were wrenched off, and the truck's momentum was not reduced until about 25 feet of the pavement had been ripped up. A wheel struck the corner of the car barn, knocking out a number of bricks and smashing a door and frame. No one was injured.

Ambulance Calls Today.
This morning the city ambulance removed Mary Archibald from No. 37 Gill street to the Kingston City Hospital, and Mrs. Eva Buchanan from No. 54 North Front street to the Benedictine Hospital.

DEVALERA ESCAPES AIRPLANE SEARCH

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Dublin, April 14 (International News Service)—Despite vigorous search by Free State troops, during which airplanes were employed, Eamon de Valera has apparently escaped from the Tipperary mountains in which he has been hiding, according to unofficial information received at Free State military headquarters today.

The whole mountain district was swept from end to end by six columns of Free State troops acting under General Prout. Many secret hiding places were found and numerous Republican irregular prisoners were captured but De Valera was not among them.

General Prout sent word he did not believe there is a single irregular hiding anywhere in the mountains. "They are swept clean," said the Free State commandant. Heavy rains are falling over the Tipperary mountains making further search difficult.

SEARCHING LONDON FOR IRISH REPUBLICANS

By Telegraph to The Freeman. London, April 14.—More than 150 policemen conducted a series of extensive raids in various parts of London early today searching the homes of suspected members of the "London Battalion" of the Irish Republican army.

A number of persons were detained for further investigation but it is understood none of them will be deported, as was done six weeks ago when more than 100 Irish men and women were arrested in raids in England and Scotland.

Police activity was aroused by a recent threatening letter received at the London office of the Freeman Journal of Dublin, and signed "Headquarters of London Battalion of the Irish Republican army."

Scotland Yard officials refused to make any statement, but it was reported that documents were seized throwing light upon the activities and plans of the members of the "London Battalion."

The police concentrated their efforts upon capture of the commandant of the "London Battalion" but Scotland Yard refused to say if he was taken.

MATHILDE AND MAX WERE QUIETLY MARRIED

By Telegraph to The Freeman. London, April 14.—Despite their romantic courtship which aroused the faded interest of two continents, the marriage of pretty 18-year-old Mathilde McCormick, granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, and Major Max Oser, middle-aged Swiss riding master, was as prosaic as the nuptials of any two persons in the most humble ranks of life, it became known today through friends.

The announcement of the marriage, circulated on Friday, was confirmed in every detail.

Mathilde and Major Oser were married at the registry office in Lewisham, a suburb southeast of London, near Greenwich, inhabited by persons of the class such as shopkeepers and well to do artisans.

LIQUOR RAID AT POUGHKEEPSIE THURSDAY

The arrest of Sigmund Krowicz, moulder, of 25 Whitefield street, and Mrs. Annie Niedzieko, of 19 William street by the Poughkeepsie police Thursday afternoon for violations of the prohibition law, precipitated a raid on Krowicz's home and the discovery of two stills in operation. The stills, a large quantity of corn mash and several containers full of liquor said to be whiskey were loaded into the patrol and brought to the police station.

THIRD BLACKHAND VERDICT IN 5 DAYS

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Clarksburg, W. Va., April 14.—A new brand of "lightning justice" was written across American records by the "Mountain Court" here today as a result of the third conviction in five days in West Virginia's sensational black hand murder trials.

With a number of deputy sheriffs and police on guard, the three convicted murderers are held in the county jail awaiting sentence of death for their share in the "black hand" campaign of violence, terror and sudden death that left a bloody trail across West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. Seven other alleged members of the terrorist band are in adjoining cells facing a turn at "Mountain Justice."

The trio tried and convicted on first degree charges—all within five days—are "Nick" Salamante, Philip "Big Nose" Conzazzaro and Richard "Dapper Dick" Ferri, Italians. Ferri, the last man convicted, was the accredited leader of the band, but the state charged all three rose through infamous "blood degrees" to be super-murderers in the ranks of the Camorra by their toll of human lives.

It was said "Dapper Dick" so-called for his faultless dress, had slain 17 men to win the highest "honors" given by the Camorra in this country.

Three different juries brought in verdicts of guilty against the trio for the slaying of Frank Naples, a Clarksburg business man, one of seven victims of the band in the county. A series of revolting revelations were made during the trials.

The black hand had shot men, dynamited homes and stolen girls to sell into hideous slavery with an apparent indifference to all laws, but justice finally overtook them with a swiftness that has set the whole county here to boasting.

Salamante was tried first, the testimony starting last Monday. He was convicted Tuesday by a jury which considered his fate in secret only seven minutes. The next afternoon Conzazzaro was found guilty by another jury which deliberated 14 minutes. On Thursday Ferri's trial started and last night he was convicted by a jury which was out only two minutes.

Five of the seven men still facing trial are charged with being accessories before the murder, in having helped to plot Naples' death. The first of these, Patsy Corbi—goes to trial Monday. The two remaining prisoners are charged with first degree murder for the slaying of James Little, a confectioner in his store a year ago.

The trio of convictions were obtained chiefly on testimony given by Rocco Fiorello a former "secretary" of the local black hand society. Fiorello told in court of the society's meetings when murders were plotted. On direct testimony he swore Salamante and Conzazzaro had fired the shots which killed Naples and that Ferri had been master of ceremonies.

All three trials were prosecuted by District Attorney William A. Morris, one of the state's leading criminal lawyers.

HEALTH TALK GIVEN IN ST. JOSEPH'S SCHOOL

Under the auspices of the County Committee of Catholic Charities on Thursday morning, April 12th, at St. Joseph's School, a talk on dental hygiene was given by Dr. Harry Meinhardt. It was most interesting and instructive. A tooth brush drill was also given by some of the pupils and it was a good demonstration to the children on the care of the teeth. The committee expect to have similar talks given in the other parochial schools.

The children were also addressed by Thomas F. Coughlin, on the need of higher education and their interest was asked in an essay contest for the Archbishop's medal, which will be offered to the pupils of the parochial schools of Ulster county.

WILL STAY IN RUHR TILL GERMANS PAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Paris, April 14.—France and Belgium will not evacuate the Ruhr until Germany pays the reparations demanded of her, it was officially announced here today at the conclusion of the conference between Premier Poincare of France and Premier Theunis of Belgium.

Officials said that France and Belgium were in absolute accord and that if there had been any misunderstanding over the mysterious visit of Louis Loucheur to London, it was now cleared away.

It is understood that the two premiers and the other French and Belgian officials taking part in the meeting covered a wide range of subjects. They decided in view of the attitude of the German government and increasing German sabotage in some parts of the Ruhr to put new restrictive measures into effect.

Premier Poincare and Premier Theunis agreed that the Ruhr administration should be "tightened." They said the Franco-Belgian program would be carried out to the letter and that Germany, if she makes any settlement proposals at all, must make them direct to Paris or else to all the interested allied powers—France, Belgium, Italy and Great Britain.

STATE TROOPERS MAKE BOMB HAUL

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Syracuse, N. Y., April 14.—As the result of a quiet ten day investigation by police, county authorities, and state troopers of a series of supposedly black hand bomb outrages in central New York, four men are under arrest today and the drag-net is out for many others, implicated in a bombing and arsenic plot for the purpose of defrauding insurance companies.

Tony Rillo and Nick Sidaro, both of Rome, N. Y., are held awaiting fixing of bail today, on affidavits by state troopers charging them with arson in connection with an explosion and fire which wrecked a Solvay meat market early in the month. Two others are held under detentions by the authorities. The Solvay bomb blast endangered the lives of twenty.

K. H. S. SENIOR DANCE WAS HUGE SUCCESS

A regular "jinx" dance was held at the high school Friday night. The seniors were the hosts, and the occasion was the closing of school for the spring vacation, in addition to which the social committee had discovered that the day was Friday, the thirteenth.

The committee did not forget one thing said to be unlucky. Everything from spilled salt to open umbrellas was connected with the entertainment. About seventy-five couples danced to the strains of the Imperial orchestra. During the intermission refreshments were served.

One entirely new feature was a spot light dance. All the lights were turned out and two spot lights started. The rays were flashed around the gymnasium and cast bewitching shadows as they filtered through the streamers hanging from the ceiling.

The room was most attractively decorated, with many-colored streamers hanging all over the room. The seniors lived up to their promise of having one of the best dances ever held at the school.

CELEBRATE OPENING OF FIRST LABOR BANK

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, April 14.—Thousands of union men and women filled Union Square today and celebrated the opening of the first labor bank in New York—the Amalgamated Bank. Bands blared and crowds milled around the square several hours. The institution, organized by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, opened with insured deposits, 500 depositors having placed $250,000 in its coffers before it started business. It has a capital and surplus of $350,000.

MASONIC CLUB PLANNING BIG DANCE ON APRIL 18

The Masonic Club is arranging to hold its first dance at the new club rooms at No. 635 Broadway on Wednesday evening, April 18. Club members and Masons may obtain tickets at the club rooms or from members of the entertainment committee.

Musical for dancing will be furnished by the Black Cap Band Orchestra. As this is the first dance to be held by the club every effort is being made to make it successful.

RECEPTION FOR PASTOR AT TRINITY ON MONDAY

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock the ladies of Trinity M. E. Church will hold a reception in the lecture room of the church to welcome back the pastor, the Rev. Dr. W. H. Moser. A special musical program will be carried out along rather unusual lines. All of the members of the church are invited to be present.

ONCE PITCHING STAFF A GOOD ONE THIS YEAR

William McKean is the latest addition to Manager Al Bridwell's pitching staff that will hurl the leather pill for the Ontario Giants this summer. McKean is a promising youth who joined the team for practice last fall, and the former Giant second baseman sees in him big possibilities as a twirler which proper development this season may bring out. Joe Scanlon, "Lefty" Davis and McKean now comprise the Ontario pitching staff.

KINGSTON CHAIN STORE SELECTED AS FIRST FOR NEW DEPARTMENT

Grand Union Tea Company, Oldest Chain Store in Kingston, To Open Meat and Delicatessen Department—Unique Refrigerator of New Type Specially Built at Barth Factory in Kingston.

The Grand Union Tea Company, one of the longest established chain stores in the country, which has maintained a store in Kingston for more than 30 years, is planning to add a meat and delicatessen department to its various stores, beginning with its Kingston store at No. 318 Wall street. Kingston has been selected as the first place in which to install and try out the new department, which is expected to be ready for opening about May 1.

The Barth & Son factory in this city is building the large and highly ornate refrigerator that will be installed. This is to be a combined meat market and grocery refrigerator of a new type, there being none other like it in the country. It will be 11 feet in length, 19 1/2 feet in height and seven feet nine inches in width. One compartment with tiled floor will be for delicatessen goods. There will be large display windows of triple glass type of construction, making it possible to see the contents of the box, the purpose being to give the customer every opportunity to see the goods and the thorough cleanliness of both refrigerator and contents. The refrigerator will have two ice chambers and will have a capacity of about two tons of ice. The plans were made and the refrigerator built to carry out the ideas of Mr. Bartlett, manager of the store, and Mr. Reidin of the Barth Company for a model installation.

The Grand Union tea store was established in Kingston in 1892 by O. B. Squire, who was its manager for upwards of 20 years. M. R. Bartlett, the present manager, has held that position for seven years, and it is a tribute to his efficiency that the main Kingston store has been selected as the first one of the big chain in which to install the new department. The Grand Union is the oldest chain store in Kingston and has steadily grown.

The March report of the association shows that the total volume of sales through the association stores during February, 1923, was more than double that of February, 1922, or a total of $1,334,557.49 for this February as against $649,621.75 in last February. Nearly $1,000,000 of this amount represents sales of fluid and skim milk and cream through association plants as compared with only $250,000 in February a year ago. The total volume of sales for February, 1923, as reported by the association amounts to $5,925,371.53.

There has been filed in the office of the county clerk a map showing the sub-division of the lands at the Saugerties road crossing with the West Shore railroad. This is the sub-division of which The Freeman made mention some time ago as being laid out by William Van Keuren. The plan shows a strip of land two hundred feet in width running full length of his property for a distance of twelve hundred feet adjacent to the property of the West Shore railroad. This strip is to be reserved for one year with the understanding that it will be appropriated to any reliable factory concern which will utilize it for factory purposes and employ at least fifty men for a period of not less than one year. The remaining portion of the property is divided into parcels of from two to twelve acres each. The idea, as advanced by Mr. Van Keuren, is unique. Not only does it offer an opportunity for land development, but it is opening up a most desirable section for residential purposes and factory purposes from which the town of Ulster will be greatly benefited.

When the free transportation arrangement for the benefit of the patrons of the Newburgh merchants goes into effect on Monday morning next, it will include upwards of 92 towns and villages within a radius of 25 miles. Everybody who rides in a public carrier acts his or her fare paid to and from Newburgh every day of next week, provided a purchase of $10 or more is made at any of the stores displaying the orange-colored card of merchandise.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 14, 1923.

Under the Republican administration millions of dollars are being realized from royalties on the production of oil from government land. For a long time a misconception of the conservation policy resulted in neglect to take the oil from government land, with the result that in many instances the oil was drained out to a large extent by the owners of adjoining land. The Harding administration adopted the policy of taking the oil from government lands in regions where adjacent oil properties are being developed, thus protecting the public interest.

"JOY" IN MANUAL LABOR.

Followers of all the artistic, literary and scientific professions find pleasure in their work because their minds are agreeably occupied, but do manual laborers enjoy their work? Many a professional man who occasionally finds pleasurable recreation in manual employment would answer yes, but ex-President Eliot of Harvard answers no. In a recent address he recalled an occasion years ago when, in speaking at a labor union meeting, he used the expression, "Joy in work," and derisive guffaws were heard from all parts of the house. The attitude of the laboring people thus indicated has not since changed. In Dr. Eliot's opinion. Now as formerly they are apt to resent and deride the idea that they ought to find pleasure in their daily work, especially when the suggestion comes from a professional man who, in their uneducated opinion, for the most part merely sits around and has a good, easy time.

Obviously the manual toilers holding this view of their work are thinking only of the strain of long hours and forget that even in hard labor they are passing the time with at least a certain measure of entertainment. They would miss their regular routine if they lost their job and were compelled to "loaf" for many months. Though they may be unwilling to admit it, they must find a certain measure of entertainment and satisfaction in their work. No doubt there is truth, however, at the bottom of the notable assertion of William Morris many years ago that modern machinery had killed the joy of craftsmanship by forcing each worker into the performance of a single task providing no scope for the human mind's creative powers and dulling it with ceaseless repetition.

AMERICAN EQUANIMITY.

The American people have reason to be proud of the manner in which they have preserved their equanimity while something like a score of foreigners have been touring the United States telling us our duties and responsibilities in foreign affairs. These men and women have gone everywhere in the United States. Their remarks have often been such as to justify resentment on the part of the American people. But everywhere they have gone they have been received with courtesy, listened to with attention, and bowed out of the United States with smiles and good wishes. The people of this country have demonstrated in the past few months that they can listen to the exhortations of foreign propagandists without being carried away by the sophistry. They have proven that they can be kind to a stranger who comes upon a mission which might easily provoke discourtesy. They have shown that they can extend to the publicists of other nations courtesies which would not be extended to publicists of the United States who might go to Europe on similar missions.

One rather sensitive editor, and a Democrat, too, is much perturbed over the present visit of Lord Robert Cecil who has been touring the country making aggressive arguments in favor of the United States joining the League of Nations. In an effort to arouse antagonism to Lord Robert he quotes an expression from Grover Cleveland in which that former leader of the Democratic party asserted:

No calamity which a great nation can inflict equals the loss of national self-respect and honor, beneath which are shielded and defended a people's safety and greatness.

Thus it is erroneously assumed that this nation sacrifices its self-respect and honor because it listens to European propagandists who come to this country seeking to promote the selfish interests of their own nations, although pretending to be concerned for the welfare of this.

There has been no sacrifice of self-respect or honor. In fact, by listening politely and by maintaining a degree of courtesy which, perhaps, was not expected, this country has demonstrated its self-respect and its self-control. The man who refuses to listen to an argument for fear he may be convinced by it, pleads the weakness of his own mind.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. Is there a snapping turtle with a soft shell?
2. Where can I get entomological specimens that I can't find in books identified? Please give the name of persons who would buy or exchange.
3. Is there any bird life in the desert of Sahara?

Answers in Monday's Nature Notes.

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. Is there such a thing as wild cabbage?
 Cabbage is said to grow in a wild state (but somewhat different from the cultivated vegetable) in certain seashore localities in Denmark, Holland, parts of Britain, and at spots on the north coast of the Mediterranean, but not to the east or north of Europe. It is thought to have been cultivated from very early times in Europe, and to have spread to the East from there, as a word appears in several tongues that seems to mean cabbage.

2. Do alligators have any special markings on their coats?
 Young specimens do, showing distinct yellow stripes cross-ways of the dark brown or black body. These stripes grow duller as the alligator grows older, and usually disappear. Occasional adult specimens show light patches on the side of the body, but more often the latter is dirty dark gray to all-black.

3. Does any country have bird protection as a state matter?
 Yes, Peru is a conspicuous example, having a commission to administer islands inhabited by guano-producing birds. The guano beds were so plundered that the birds producing them were fast disappearing and this rich source of wealth was threatened. About 1907 the Peruvian government placed the islands and birds under rigorous protection, and today the bird population has returned to normal.

REV. CRANSTON'S 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Of Ordination To Ministry of Methodist Church—Four Members of Class Present—In Presence With Gold Watch and Chain and Purse of Gold.

The Clinton Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church was filled to capacity Friday night with the parishioners and many friends of the Rev. George M. Cranston who gathered to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the ministry of the Methodist Church and also to tender him a farewell reception before he leaves for his new charge at Newburgh.

Four members of the original class which was received into the New York Conference in 1898 were present Friday night: The Rev. George A. MacDonald, district superintendent of the Poughkeepsie district; the Rev. Herbert Hazard, pastor of the Methodist Church at Brewster; the Rev. George W. Grinton, district superintendent of the Kingston district; and the Rev. George M. Cranston.

E. B. Schenck was the chairman of the meeting for the evening. As the first speaker he introduced the Rev. George A. MacDonald. Mr. MacDonald opened his discourse in a rather humorous vein and told the members of the Clinton Avenue Church some of the things that had happened to their lay committee when they were down to conference. Mr. MacDonald then went on to say that nine years ago when he had heard the name of the Rev. George M. Cranston read at the conference session for Clinton Avenue Church he had prophesied to those who set around him at that time that the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Cranston would be a successful one. "Although I do not pretend to be a prophet or the son of a prophet," said Mr. MacDonald, "I really think that that one prophecy has been fulfilled."

The speaker then went on to state that he was going to prophesy once more—and this time he would prophesy that the pastorate of Mr. Cranston at Grace Church, Newburgh, would be another successful one. Mr. MacDonald stated that he had served the church to which Mr. Cranston was being sent for eight years and that the people to whom Mr. Cranston would now be a minister would be of the same type and character as those to whom he had been ministering for the last nine years. He said that there was just one difference between Grace Church, Newburgh, and Clinton Avenue Church, Kingston, and that was that at Newburgh there is all the equipment for carrying out the kind of work which Clinton Avenue Church is endeavoring to carry out without that equipment.

The district superintendent then ventured to make another prophecy and that under the Rev. Robert Greenwell, Clinton Avenue would have the privilege of enjoying another successful pastorate. Mr. MacDonald spoke in the highest terms of the worth of Mr. Greenwell, who will begin his pastorate at Clinton Avenue on Sunday.

After Dr. MacDonald's talk Mrs. Roy Wood, accompanied by Miss Ethel Mantorock, sang a solo which was enjoyed by all.

The next speaker was the Rev. Herbert Hazard. The Rev. Mr. Hazard indulged in some reminiscences of the past and then paid a high tribute to the ministry of Mr. Cranston and also Mrs. Cranston.

A letter was then read from the members of the Methodist Church at Vails Gate, where Mr. Cranston was pastor at one time, congratulating him on the anniversary of his ordination to the ministry. Another letter was also read from the Rev. George W. Rice, the fifth member of the class now in the New York conference, who was unable to be present at the reception.

Nelson Hyatt, accompanied by Vernon Miller, then sang a solo which was also appreciated by all.

Dr. Grinton was the next speaker. Dr. Grinton also opened his talk in a humorous vein and enjoyed telling a few jokes on some of the other brethren who were in the pulpit with him.

During the course of his remarks Dr. Grinton said that a minister could be rather mediocre but if he had a good wife he would be able to get by. "That is the reason that Cranston has got by for the last nine years," said the superintendent.

Dr. Grinton said that the one thing that had made him pleased with the ministry of Mr. Cranston's was the fact that the emphasis had always been placed on the spiritual work of the church and that was, in his opinion, the real reason that his ministry had been the success that it was.

The last speaker was the Rev. George M. Cranston. Mr. Cranston said that the years that he had spent in Kingston and at the Clinton Avenue Church had been pleasant years and ones that he would never forget.

He said that while he had been in Kingston, Kingston and Clinton Avenue had been the center of the earth for him. However that was now changed and Newburgh and Grace Church had become the center of the earth. He asked the people not to think that he had not appreciated their loyalty and cooperation but to remember that the one thing that minister cannot do is make any special friends. The minister must minister to all souls alike and show no partiality.

Mr. Cranston said that in his ministry he had never taken money into consideration. As far as he was concerned the amount of money a man had did not make a particle of difference.

Mr. Cranston then informed his people that he had come to the conclusion some months ago that it was time for him to move and that he had stuck to that conclusion up to conference time.

He then told his people that during the last nine years their membership had increased 144 until now they had a membership of 844. He also told them that the total enrollment of their Sunday school at the present time was 300.

He concluded his talk by wishing

Take Advantage of the EDISON Budget Plan

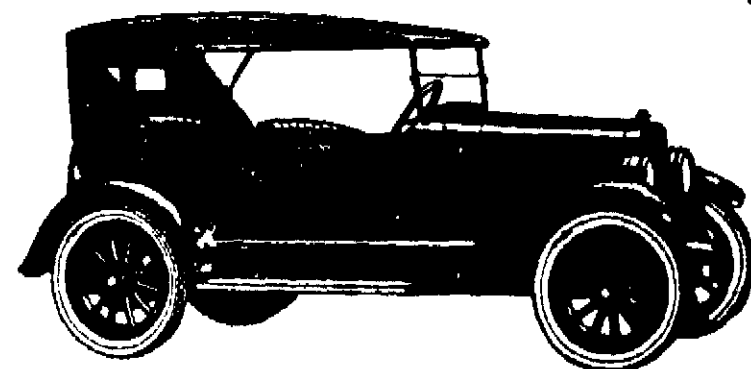

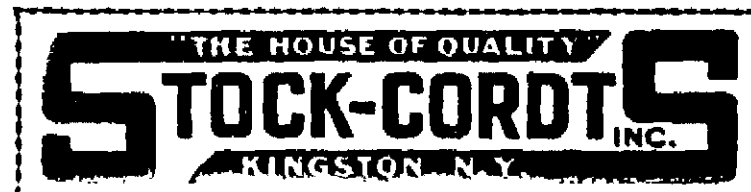

MUSIC is one of the greatest pleasures in life, and the Edison Budget Plan one of the most convenient and practical means by which you may obtain it. The famous music of the great masters of the world, the snappy dance selections of the "Great White Way" and the popular songs of the variety and concert stage can be enjoyed by you and your family in the seclusion of your own home, with a New Edison, at a cost of only a few dollars a month.

Budget Plan accommodations give music lovers who do not care to pay in full an opportunity to place a New Edison in their homes at once. If you can afford a few dollars a month you can enjoy the full benefits of the Superior Re-Creating qualities of The New Edison, the only phonograph that darts the test of direct comparison with the living artists.

TEN MEMORIAL WINDOWS FOR PONCKHOCKIE CHURCH

On Easter Sunday, eighteen new members were received into the fellowship of the church, making the present membership 254. The pastor, the Rev. F. W. Moot, has quietly been interesting certain friends and members of the church in the question of new memorial windows for the auditorium. Last Sunday he announced that the ten windows here been donated and would be placed in the building by November 1st. Tuesday evening the ladies held an "After Easter Party." A program of unusual excellence was rendered by members and friends of the congregation, after which the ladies served refreshments. The net proceeds of the party were fifty dollars.

Throw Away False Teeth.

Some one pulled the bell cord of a Midland train in England the other day and the engineer put on the brakes. The conductor went through the cars, inquiring the reason for the sudden stopping of the train. He noticed an old woman, who appeared highly excited. She explained to the conductor that she had been eating pines, and had been throwing the pits out the window one by one. The last pine she had eaten had caused her false teeth to become dislodged, and reaching up for the pit, the teeth instead of the pit came out her mouth. She had thrown the teeth out the window, and would the conductor kindly hold the train until she went back to search for them? The conductor, however, pulled the bell cord and the train went on to its destination.

C. OF C. RENEWS BUS TERMINAL LEASE

William Dugan Elected Director to Succeed M. H. Herzog, Who Resigned—Membership Campaign Plans Discussed.

The matter of the uptown bus terminal was discussed by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their last meeting and an agreement made with the proprietors of the Kingston Hotel to pay them an annual rental of $300, they to collect another $300 from the bus owners, proportioned on the volume of business done by the various bus lines. There are seven bus lines, running a total of 21 buses a day, that make the Kingston Hotel their terminal. This involves almost constant attendance at the telephone and the handling of a large number of packages. Bus owners were expected to pay $350 last year, but only $178 has thus far been collected.

It was also decided to issue the folder containing time tables at an early date. William Dugan was elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of M. H. Herzog, and plans for a membership campaign in June were discussed.

TUT'S GEW-GAWS COMPARED WITH MODERN UTILITIES.

Reports tell us that old King Tutankhamen had things buried with him worth, at present day valuations, something like $40,000,000—just a few of his personal possessions that he was especially fond of; such as his jewel-mounted, gold-tipped chariots, and his gold and silver inlaid foot stools and couches. All these things did he have; and not a drop of running hot water for his bath!

It is probably safe to say that old King Tut would have traded any of his cherished possessions for a modern American bath room and hot water service as we have it today. It seems probable that outside of a sponge bath at the hands of his body servants, King Tut's only bathing facilities were supplied by the waters of the Nile; subject to constant danger of some crocodile failing to recognize his royal majesty and snapping a leg off.

As for Tut's subjects, it seems likely that when they wanted a hot bath, they were simply "out of luck." Perhaps in that is found the cause of the final fall of Egyptian civilization. Next to purity of water supply and safe disposal of sewage, hot water appears most essential to sanitation; and the record of history is clear that the rise of any nation was almost parallel to the attention paid to sanitation. For example, Rome flourished until its citizenry allowed themselves to be overflooded with hordes of barbarians, devoid of a knowledge of or respect for sanitation.

To have plenty of hot water seems to have been one of the things for which civilization has striven. The primitive man heated water by dropping hot stones in a hole in the ground, lined with skins and filled with water. Then came the stone pots and pans, followed by our modern methods by which we have hot water in our homes, factories and business buildings by merely turning a faucet.

Indeed, we are ahead of old King Tut! If we wish to draw a comparison from the pages of history, we should be gratified to find that America, by leading the world in matters of sanitation, is in a similar position to that held by ancient nations, when they were at the height of their power.

Calder Fascinating Talker.
A. Bland Calder, who is to speak at the Fair Street Reformed Church Sunday evening, is assistant United States trade commissioner, located at Peking, China. He spoke at the Rotary luncheon last Wednesday and gave a most fascinating account of conditions in China, commending most highly the work of Christian missionaries and the Red Cross. He will have a message of great interest and inspiration for all who are interested in the economic and religious future of China.

REPEAL LUKS LAWSIf They Are Successful in Rallying Their Forces—Big Surprise When Walker Will Vote Down to Defeat.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, April 14.—(Special).—To say the Democrats in the assembly were surprised the other day when the Walker bill designed to repeal the Lusk anti-education laws, went down to defeat, is putting it rather mildly. They were literally taken off their feet when the vote was announced, because they had been under the impression that at least 10 or 15 Republicans would vote for the Walker repealer.There still remains a possibility that the anti-education laws will be repealed at the present session, because as soon as the vote was announced, Assemblyman Ullman, New York Republican, who led the fight in the house for the Democratic measure, moved to have the vote reconsidered.
That was done, and the foes of the Lusk laws now have another opportunity of trying to rally sufficient votes to push through the Walker bill.From all accounts, Speaker Mach-hold was somewhat surprised at the vote, because at a conference of the Assembly Republicans about two weeks ago, it was decided to report out the repeal measure as 18 Republicans expressed their belief that the laws should be wiped off the statute books. Following that conference Speaker Machhold said he thought the Democrats would have more than enough votes to pass the repealer.At least five Democrats who were present the day the repeal bill was voted upon, were not in their seats when their names were called. Only eight of the reported 18 Republicans, who were expected to vote for the bill, actually cast their vote against the Lusk laws.It is recalled that the Walker bill would not have been passed in the senate had not Senator Davenport, Republican of Onondaga, cast his vote for it. All of the New York City Republicans, with the exception of Assemblyman Clayton, voted for the repeal bill.Unless the Democrats have success in rallying their forces when the next vote is taken the Lusk laws will not be repealed.

Judge Robert S. Lovett

Judge Robert S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, testifying before the interstate commerce commission, in San Francisco,
on the regrouping of railroads, urged that arrangements be made that will be similar to the great railroad system built up by the late E. H. Harriman and ordered dissolved by the United States supreme court.

Tell This at Dinner.

Patrick, aged three months, sat on his father's knee yelling lustily, while on the other knee sat his twin brother teasing the elasticity of his parent's mustache. An elder brother hung on the chair back, while a fourth was indulging in the childish amusement of endeavoring to cut small pieces off the cat's tail. Wife (looking up from a book of interesting facts): "They do say, Barney, that a child is born every time the clock ticks." "Thin bad luck to the haythio that invented clocks!"
said Barney.

Exercise Must Be Regular.

Exercise becomes of value only when it is taken regularly. Normal persons should walk several miles every day,
and should make the practice a habit.
There is no hope for the nervous individual whose bad habits have made him flabby and devoid of stamina. He cannot be well if his muscles lack tone.
Irregularity in rising to the morning is another pernicious habit. Lying abed after the regular hour of rising makes for muscular and moral flabbiness.

That Was Different.

I was calling on a friend one afternoon when our conversation drifted to an election. It was shortly after the time women were given the vote. I remarked that if some of the women would stay at home instead of trying to help so much, the election might have been different. My friend informed me that she had been out all day and thought she had done her duty. I made some excuse to go as soon as possible.—Chicago Tribune.

How Heat Affects Steel.

The heating of cast steel will affect the strength, either to increase or to decrease it, according to how the heating is done. Alloys ordinarily classified as "babbitt" melt at a relatively low temperature—400 degrees C.
(775 degrees F.) may be given an appropriate temperature at which most of such alloys are entirely molten. Heating cast steel to such a temperature ought not to change the material appreciably.

LAND OF CRUELTY

Incident Typical of Life in the Dark Continent.Zebra's Action in Protecting Body of Mate Slain by Man, Beautiful Protest Against Death.The sun was exactly overhead, beating down upon the parched African landscape.I was riding with a friend over the plains of Lo-Dureto, which lies under the Eburu mountains.A hundred yards away two zebras,
a male and a female, were feeding.
With their thick necks and striped flanks they looked typical productions of Africa, obstinate and fantastic."Look at those two d—d zebras," I said to my friend. "I bet you a rupee I send a bullet into one of them."I got off my pony and, raising my rifle, took steady aim. A moment later and the mare was down and kicking about in the dust and dry grass. At the sound of the report the stallion had stopped short in his gambols and galloped away; but he did not go far. He stood still and turned to look at us; and, as I remounted and we rode away I saw him trotting slowly back to his mate, who was now lying quite still on her side."You made pretty good practice," said my friend."Yes, it was not bad shooting," I answered.We continued on our way together, but for some reason or another I felt over-sensitive that day and was troubled by what had happened. It seemed to me it was quite unpardonable to have taken the life of that zebra so carelessly, for no reason at all. Far up in the zenith the equatorial sun blazed down upon us. I knew that in the sight of that heartless Gorgon's eye of Africa it was no hellish thing I had done. I knew that he was far too used to African ways and the cruelty of tooth and claw. The next day I rode to the Nagum valley and spent many hours dosing 2,000
hoggets with bluestone and mustard.
The incident of the day before had completely gone out of my mind and even if I had remembered it the occasion hardly offered much opportunity for sentiment over a shot zebra, with so many sheep waiting for their medicine in the heat and dust of the home.
I dosed them until I was too tired to speak, pushing the narrow neck of the Worcestershire sauce bottle into the sides of their mouths and holding it there, while they swallowed the proper quantity of liquid.When at last I had finished I mounted my pony and began riding home.
For no special reason I selected to return by way of the Lo-Dureto plain.
I fancied perhaps that it was shorter.
I was tired and my pony was tired,
oppressed by the late heat of the African afternoon.In a half-dazed condition I noticed subconsciously that there were a number of vultures circling about in the sky in front of me. "What is disturbing them?" I wondered. At that moment my mind received a strange jolt and I was wide awake.
The vultures were circling over the zebra I had shot the day before; but they had not so much as plucked out her eyes, because the stallion was still there at her side trotting to and fro and furiously driving away any bird that settled on the ground near his dead mate. And as I sat on my pony watching the scene, I knew that this untamed fantastic animal, restlessly running to and fro, in the vivid sunshine of that tropical noon, had thrown out a challenge against the material universe, more desperate, more beautiful, and more convincing than any I had ever heard from pulpit or platform. — From "Ebony and Ivory" by Llewellyn Powys. (American Library Service.)

To the Contrary.

One evening, while waiting for my fiance to take me out to dinner, some friends called. We began to discuss critics of clothes, and I said I never would marry anyone who was inclined that way; that my fiance never criticized my clothes.I always made my own hats, so had several to choose from. I was adorned in one of my own creations when the bell rang. I rushed to the door, all smiles. Romeo stepped in, took one look at me and, not seeing my guests, exclaimed: "I'll certainly be glad when I can buy your hats. That is the third one I have seen you wear in the last few weeks and each one homelier than the other. If such a thing is possible."That certainly was my most embarrassing moment.—Chicago Tribune.

THE STORY OF
AN AUTOMOBILEHere's an intimate story of automobile building that will appeal to everyone who has ever ridden in a motor car.It's even more interesting than an actual trip through an automobile factory because the camera pictures details which would escape the eye. It abounds in human interest, with many thrills and in many cases real excitement.You see the various parts transformed from the red hot metal to the finished unit. You follow the final assembly line in operation with units added in logical order, each unit being traced throughout its manufacture before the next is applied.This film was produced under the direction of the United States Department of Commerce in cooperation with the Studebaker Corporation and will be shown in all parts of the world. It is an education in manufacturing efficiency.

Washington to Conway.

The only letter Washington wrote to Conway was a note in which he pointed out that he had discovered Conway's discontent and malice against Washington. It ran: "A letter which I received last night contained the following paragraph: 'In a letter from General Conway to General Gates he says that he has determined to save your country, or a weak general and had counselors would have ruined it.' I am, sir, your humble servant, etc." Washington did not ask Conway for help; on the contrary he had so poor
an opinion of that officer that he wrote
"His merits exist more in his own imagination than in reality. His promotion would be a real act of injustice."Auditorium Tonight

COLONIALS OPEN SEASON SUNDAY

The baseball season will be opened here Sunday afternoon at the Kingston Fair Grounds when the Colonials will entertain the fast Red Hook team. The game will be called at 1:30 o'clock. Weather conditions permitting, Judge Schrick will probably start Sid Ross against the visitors, or he may use Bud Culliton. Schrick stated he would use the line up given in The Freeman on Thursday against the Red Hooks. It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the opening and Kingston is anxious to start the season off with a win. The grounds are in excellent shape, even better, it is said, than last fall.

"THE STORY OF AN AUTOMOBILE"

Will Be Shown at St. Joseph's School Hall in Moving Pictures Monday Evening Through Courtesy of Van Motor Company.

"The Story of an Automobile," in moving pictures, will be shown at St. Joseph's School Hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock. This film, which was produced under the direction of the United States Department of Commerce in cooperation with the Studebaker corporation, was photographed in the new $20,000,000 plant of the Studebaker automobile at South Bend, Indiana.

The film shows the latest word in labor-saving machinery which are used in the manufacture of an automobile. Red hot steel is forged into axle shafts by a few blows of a gigantic steam hammer. Molten metal is run into molds and intricate pieces of machinery are created in the twinkling of an eye. The test machines, where specimen propelling shafts are twisted until they break to make sure that the steel used measures up to the high standard required, are shown in operation. In fact the entire building of an automobile from the raw metal to the finished product is shown.

By moving pictures the building of an automobile is shown even more clearly than by a trip through the factory for at the factory it is almost impossible to take in every operation. The picture shows the long assembly line where parts by part the automobile is gradually formed and built up until the complete unit moves out of the factory ready for the road.

The picture is being shown here through the courtesy of the Van Motor Company, local Studebaker dealers. There will be no admission charged and the public is invited to attend.

COLONIALS IN INITIAL BOW

Manager Miller's Nine From Over Red Hook Way Comes to Do Battle With Manager Brown's Galaxy Sunday.

For the last three months there has been talk, talk, talk. Sunday there is going to be action. Talk about what? Baseball of course.

What baseball? The Colonials, Mr. Miller's nine, have been signed up during these last three months and every time a player has been signed up the newspapers came out with a story and then the fans began to talk about the merits of the man signed. Then after the roster had been completed the next question in the minds of the fans was, Who is going to coach the team? In due time that was settled to the satisfaction of all by the signing of City Judge Harry Schrick.

Then everyone began to wonder when the season was going to open and what team would furnish the opposition. In time that was settled with the announcement that the first ball would be pitched over the plate on Sunday afternoon, April 15 at 3:30 and that the opposing team would be Manager Miller's famous Red Hooks.

After a little while Bobby Coyle was signed up to take care of the grounds and then everything was ready.

Tomorrow the pessimists and the optimists will send their way to the Fair Grounds to size things up. It doesn't look as though there was going to be much room for the pessimist however. The Colonials have one of the strongest lineups that has been seen on a baseball field in Kingston for a good many years. Whether or not they will win the opening game is of course open to dispute as Red Hook has another likely looking aggregation of stars who are bound to make trouble for any ball team.

Sid Ross will very likely start things off for Kingston in the box although Bud Culliton may be used. Then too, all three members of the Colonial staff may get an opportunity to show their wares. Robins, the field captain, will work behind the bat as usual and if necessary he will have "Wick" Cragan to relieve him. Bobby Coyle will hold down first, Deagan second, and either McCue or Glicker the hot corner.

However the man who is the subject of most of the conversation among fans is Benny Bergmann, the baseball star, who is scheduled to start the game at short stop. Little is known of this gentleman's ability at the national game but every one seems to think that he should produce the goods.

In the outer gardens the fans will find Schwab, Terpenning and Dahn. Peter Jordan will again call the balls and strikes and in general be the boss of the struggle.

The time for theoretical talk has passed for after tomorrow night the fans will be able to talk about facts. Manager Miller has announced that Rossback will pitch for his team Sunday.
